

News and Homework for week beginning 4th December

THIS WEEK: Owl Babies, Moz Monster, Nativity, Narnia, Christmas Elf

In Maths... we have continued lessons using money and understanding the value of coins and notes. We are still getting to grips with the value of coins. We have also completed some assessments on addition and subtraction, including problem solving and reasoning.

In English... we completed our hot writes on Monday of our owl baby stories, totally independently. Then we have looked at Moz the Monster (John Lewis Advert) and have spent some time describing him and his new monster friends. We have looked at noun phrases and similes to make our writing more exciting.

In other news... This week we have practiced our nativity play a couple of times using the props, and practiced the songs. We seem to know it all, but we have just got to get it all to come together as one! Mr Elf has also joined us this week, and everynight he gets up to mischievous, one morning he ate the chocolates from the advent calendar! In PE this week, with Mrs Bolton, we practiced our Christmas keep fit, by dancing along to Santa! We had to be quite coordinated! It was a lot of fun.

EXTRA NEWS: The children have gone home with slips of paper asking for under garments for their costumes, please look in their book bags.

Star of the week... Alfie - Super story writing, putting in 100% effort to write in super sentences.
