

News and Homework for week beginning 6th November

THIS WEEK: Islam, Remembrance Day, Owl Babies.

In Maths... we have been looking at subtraction this week, creating maths stories, and counting backwards lots! We are using various different resources and models to help us do this. Some of us have even looked at column subtraction.

In English... this week we have started a new but familiar book, 'Owl Babies' we have been familiarising ourselves with the text and the sequence of the story, using story maps and acting out the story. We will then start to replace the characters with our own next week to write a new original story.

In other news... Swimming was lots of fun on Monday, and the children managed very well with the new routines. They are all looking forward to returning next week. Tuesday was an interesting day with Sayf Nasier's talk all about Islam, and sharing a range of different items related to his day to day routines. Then Tuesday afternoon as part of our PE we all took part in Indian dancing learning simple routines and moves to link together. Friday talked about Remembrance Day and the significance of the poppy.

Star of the week... Charles for excellent effort in phonics and writing his letter sounds. Well done Charles Maths Additional: See below - remember you can pick a homework in silver but do bronze maths activities and visa versa etc..
